

ABC's Good Morning America

09/25/25

7:05:28 a.m.

41 seconds

[ON-SCREEN HEADLINE: New Details; Deadly Shooting at Texas ICE Facility]

MIREYA VILLARREAL: FBI agents finding rounds of ammunition on the rooftop where the alleged shooter, 29-year-old Joshua Jahn, was perched with the writings on one unspent round reading "anti-ICE." Police say the suspect's vehicle had a poster taped to the rear fender showing a map of an alleged nuclear fallout although it's unclear if there's any link to the shooting. According to his friends, the alleged gunman was not overly political and was mainly interested in video games and internet culture. This attack comes on the heels of a bomb threat on the same facility just last month, and in July, authorities say multiple armed assailants attacked an ICE facility in Alvarado, Texas where one officer was wounded.

(....)

7:06:43 a.m.

14 seconds

VILLARREAL: All of this coming amid a new poll that was released asking Americans, do you feel like the violence in this country is happening because of how people talk about politics? 82 percent said yes, George

GEORGE STEPHANOPOULOS: Such a tense time.